

Whakamanawa 2024

The National Social Services Conference

16 & 17 September 2024, Te Pae ki Ōtautahi

Workshops: Day 2

Facilitating Inclusivity

- Enhancing Rainbow Inclusive Practice
- Neuroinclusive Practice: It's Good for Everyone!
- Cultural Safety – working effectively with ethnic communities

Innovation in Social Services

- Trauma Informed Visual Advocacy – the art and science of using hand drawn visuals to level the playing field for clients working with agencies
- 'Virtually Real' – utilising innovative tools in training and assessment
- Urungi – measuring system performance from the perspective of whānau

Sustainable & Thriving Organisations

- Decolonising Social Work Through a Bicultural Lens
- NGO and Statutory Collaborative Working Relationships Using Best Practice
- Enhancing Psychosocial Safety in the Workplace
- Social Worker Supervision Strategy – investing in the wellbeing and practice of kaimahi across the social service sector

Strengthening Your Practice

- The Role of Parents and Caregivers in Supporting Children and Young People to Heal From Trauma
- Kia Tika Kia Pono – Honouring truths. A framework for engaging with care experienced young people in co-design and consultation
- Building Awesome Whānau: 'A Hapori Approach'
- Social Work in a Rural Setting

Change Making in Our Mahi

- Kāhu Matarau: Whānau-led Change Through Collaboration
- Re-thinking Family Violence Risk: Seeing and Responding
- What makes the biggest difference? Supporting whānau impacted by incarceration